

MHS names school track in honor of Coach Terry Lakes

Alumni turned out for special surprise ceremony at stadium

Longtime coach and teacher Terry Lakes stands with a crowd of family, friends, current student-athletes, and alumni who used to run for him, behind a plaque designating the Terry Lakes Track and Field Facility at the Marion High School sports complex.

In the fall of 2018, the Marion High School Athletic Department, Marion Community Schools administrators and School Board, and family and friends of longtime Marion High School coach and teacher Terry Lakes, took on a project: To keep Coach Lakes in the dark as long as possible about a special honor for him.

That project was, perhaps to the surprise of all, a success, because it wasn't until Sept. 14, 2018, that Coach Lakes learned of the effort.

It was on that evening, before the Marion Giants Homecoming football game — which just happened to be against Coach Lakes' hometown of Richmond — that the school announced the newly named Terry Lakes Track and Field Facility.

Many alumni who had been on Coach Lakes' teams over the years turned out for the celebration. Coach Lakes said seeing so many former student-athletes turn out in his honor was an emotional experience for him.

"When I saw that group of guys coming down the track

I was floored," Coach Lakes told the Chronicle-Tribune for a report on the ceremony and honor.

1998 MHS alumnus Paige Brunner, who ran for Coach Lakes and now coaches runners at a neighboring school district, Oak Hill, had this to say to the C-T:

"I think that's profound, when you're a coach and make an impact on so many people you don't even realize. He'll always be Coach. No matter how old he is, how old I am, or how long we coach against each other.

It's special, and it's beyond well deserved."

Coach Lakes will continue to teach at Marion High School, where he is the chair of the English department and teacher for many of the Advanced Placement and dual credit classes that provide early college opportunities for MHS students.

Coach Lakes may not have started life out as a Marion Giant, but he has made an unforgettable impact on the Giant Tradition, and is undeniably, proudly a Marion Giant for life!

Alumnus shares special opportunity

Standout MHS students get to visit with GM exec, take VIP tour in Detroit

In May 2018, Jeff Harris, owner of Matthews Buick auto sales in Marion, won a United Way fundraiser auction item to have four people spend the day with Alicia Boler Davis, General Motors Executive Vice President of Global Manufacturing, and tour the company's plant near Detroit. Jeff, a 1982 Marion High School alumnus, decided the opportunity he purchased may better serve aspiring successful young women at Marion High School.

Marris contact Mark Fauser, who is Sales, Marketing and Creative Development Director for Marion Community Schools, about the potential opportunity, and Fauser jumped on the idea.

"What a wonderful, thoughtful gift by one of our alumni," Fauser said.

Fauser reached out to Bobbie Owensby, MHS teacher and longtime community leader.

"Mrs. Owensby is one of our premier leaders and a fantastic teacher who always goes above and beyond to give our kids exciting new experiences," he said.

Owensby generously agreed to help with the trip, and identified two excellent Marion High School students who would enjoy and benefit from the trip: Azira Fisher and Leilanu Jackson, who both have exceptional GPAs (as of January 2019, 4.8340 and 4.9655, respectively), and who are great leaders and very active at MHS.

a car supplied by Matthews Buick to take a private tour at the Lake Orion, Mich., plant, getting an insider look at technology few get to witness directly, not to mention spend the day with a high level executive who was happy to share her insights and experience and encourage these Giants to reach for their dreams.

Boler Davis began her career with GM as a manufacturing engineer in Warren, Mich., and worked her way up to become the first African-American woman to be a plant manager at a GM vehicle manufacturing plant, leading the facility at Arlington Assembly in Texas. She went on to lead other facilities and then moved into the company vice president level, first overseeing customer experience, and then taking on global quality. She was named to her current role as executive vice president of global manufacturing in June 2018, a member of GM's senior leadership team.

Fund Purpose:
The GIANT DREAMS Endowed Funds were established by the Marion High School Alumni Association. The three funds support MHS Academics, MHS Arts, and MHS Athletics. All donations are designated to those causes and all distribution decisions will be recommended solely by the Marion High School Alumni Association.

Giant Dreams Endowments update

As of early March, the Giant Dreams Endowments were just over $228,000.

This is a wonderful accomplishment that reflects the generosity and hard work of many, many community members here and alumni near and far. These funds, held at the Community Foundation of Grant County, will help Marion Community Schools each year in perpetuity.

Already, these funds have provided needed materials for academics, arts, and athletics programs, making a real difference in the lives of today's Giants.

MHS Arts Hall of Fame now open

This fisheye-lense photo shows one wall of the new Marion Giants Arts Hall of Fame (distorted with the typical curve of a fisheye-lense effect - the wall is actually flat!) The Giants Arts Hall of Fame includes several shadow box-style displays on two walls in the arts section of the school, near the music rooms and auditorium. It also includes a large display case for the 1969 Marching Giants' state championship trophy (closer view below right). A nominating process for additional inductees is being finalized and will be announced to alumni and the public.

Bob Walton, an inaugural inductee into the Giants Arts Hall of Fame, poses for a photo in front of the display in his honor. His career has included Broadway shows and much more.

Current Marching Giants members show off the new display case for the 1969 Marching Giants' state championship trophy and memorabilia. They are wearing the new marching uniforms that the Marion High School Alumni Association helped purchase by donating a portion of the funds.

Plan a visit:

The Arts Hall of Fame is open during regular school hours and by appointment. Please contact the Marion High School office at 765-664-9051 to arrange a visit during school hours, or contact Mark Fauser, Sales, Marketing and Creative Development Director for Marion Community Schools, at 765-661-4621 to inquire about other tour options.

Giants inspiring Giants

Nine alums honored as MHS Hall of Distinction inductees

A crowd of friends, family members, and community members gathered on Marion High School's Homecoming Weekend to celebrate the 2018 class of inductees to the MHS Hall of Distinction.

The induction banquet is a highlight of the year and is always an inspirational event. This year was no exception.

The Hall of Distinction banquet is part reunion, part celebration, part inspiration. Attendees walk away remembering all the fantastic things about their time at Marion High School, and looking toward a bright future.

The nine 2018 inductees were:

- Earl E. Green, Marion High School Class of 1940, the first African-American postmaster in Grant County (inducted posthumously)
- Charles E. "Chick" Nelson, Marion High School Class of 1948, lawyer and expert on community development and housing, former executive vice president of the United States Institute of Peace
- Carlton Rose, Marion High School Class of 1980, President of Global Fleet Maintenance and Engineering for UPS
- Brian Balsbaugh, Marion High School Class of 1991, a leader in the sports and gaming industry, representing some of the most high-profile athletes and players in the world
- Kathleen L. Keller, Ph.D., Marion High School Class of 1991, award-winning researcher in the field of childhood eating behavior and obesity
- Scott and Julie Moorehead, Marion High School Class of 1996 and 1998, Scott is CEO of TCC, and co-founder the Culture of Good organization, which teaches businesses the im-tributions to the achievements and prestige of Marion Community Schools. It also serves to help inspire current students to aspire to similar success.

Any MHS alumnus who graduated at least five years ago and who has made substantial contributions to the achievements of Marion Community Schools or whose exemplary actions reflect honor on MCS is eligible for nomination. The Hall seeks to honor men and women who have distinguished themselves through superb accomplishment on a local, state or national level in diverse fields of endeavor.

Non-MHS graduates may be afforded honorary status in the MHS Hall of Distinction.

PRESIDENT'S PERSPECTIVE

Greetings,
Giant Nation!
Well, my last Giant will graduate in just a few short months and
join his sister at Indiana University-Bloomington
next fall.

My husband Geoff (MHS Class of 1985) and I have enjoyed raising Giants and truly believe the diversity in students and curriculum, the academics and the overwhelming Giant Pride at Marion High School has created a path of future success for our children.

As students and a family we have been able to appreciate all that MHS offers in academics, athletics and the arts.

So, please, enjoy the newsletter and take pride in our current Giant Nation and the future Giants that your funds help support. Happy 2019, and Go, Giants!

MHS classmates come back to create 'Class of 1993 to Infinity'

Class of 1993 alumnus Aaron Myers brought back some of his crew from his Marion High School days to do a music video to honor his class, on the 25th anniversary of their graduation.

Giants give back

Culleys' gifts help grow endowments

We want to say a GIANT THANK YOU to Alan and PJ Culley, seen in the photo above, who recently contributed $2,000 for the Giant Dreams Academic Endowment and $1,000 for the Arts Endowment!

In addition, Alan has been giving lots of memorabilia for our display cases at the High School and the Alumni Art Auction.

We couldn't do what we do without the generosity of alumni who give their time, talent, and treasure to provide opportunities for Giants today and long into the future. Interested in giving or getting involved? Contact Mark Fauser, Sales, Marketing and Creative Development Director for Marion Community Schools, at 765-661-4621.

Frank Faunce flies in for book signing

Did you know Frank Faunce, Class of 1956, is a published author? He says his Marion days — and the people here, too — served as inspiration for characters and more.

He generously agreed to come to Marion from Georgia for a book signing, in conjunction with the Giant Arts in the Park event last fall.

His books, "Mystery at the Thirteen Sycamores", "The Seton Secret", and "Washington's Doubloon", are available on Amazon.

The picture at left is Frank standing by his plaque in the Marion Hall of Distinction, into which he was inducted in 2009.

Mooreheads give to MHSAA

Another GIANT THANK YOU to Scott and Julie Moorehead, 2018 inductees into the Marion High School Hall of Distinction, recently gave $5,000 to the Marion High School Alumni Association.

MHSAA has distributed funds for many projects and programs at all grade levels within Marion Community Schools.

When alumni and friends of the Marion Giants step up and get involved like the Mooreheads and many others have, it allows us to continue to provide these gifts to support outstanding opportunities for Marion Giants today and in the future.

Join MHSAA or upgrade your membership today!

The Marion High School Alumni Association has raised tens of thousands of dollars to support Giants today and long into the future. We have distributed money for many projects and programs at all grade levels within Marion Community Schools.

To continue to provide these gifts to support outstanding opportunities, we have instituted levels of yearly membership. (Those who members prior to 2018 are lifetime members, but we ask that all members consider yearly gifts.)

Membership options are:

- Annual basic: $25 (non-alumni = "Giant Supporters")
- Annual Purple: $50
- Annual Gold: $100
- Annual GFND: $250
- Annual Giant: $500

All members are recognized in the Giant Life newsletter, and those who donate at levels above basic will be noted. (You can also purchase a memorial membership for alumni who have passed on.)

To become a member or renew, visit MHSalum.com.
